DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in regards to the Amendment and Response received on 30 November 2004.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 30 November 2004 has been entered.
3. The application has been examined. Claims 1-9 and newly added claims 10-16 are pending. The objections and rejections cited are as stated below:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lundblade et al. (Lundblade), US PG Pub 2002/0183056.
6. Regarding independent claims 1, 8, and 9 (e.g., exemplary independent claim 1), Lundblade discloses a wireless application server system comprising digital data stored on one or more storage media, the data further comprising: a central application server program configured to be downloaded to one or more remote wireless application server computers and to execute on the one or more remote wireless application server computers (Lundblade teaches a central server is also connected to an application download server (ADS) 215. The application download server 215 is used to interface with a wireless device via a wireless network 220 to download an application. The central server may also send the permissions list and developer identification associated with the application to the ADS where it can be stored until transmission to a wireless device. It is preferred that the application, permission list and the developer identification be digitally signed by the central server to increase security from modification. [see Lundblade, section 0042 and 0048], the central application server program being configured to cause the one or more remote wireless application server computers to download and to install one or more wireless application software components on the one or more remote wireless application server computer [see Lundblade, 0048-0059]; one or more remote wireless application server programs being configured to transmit to one or more portable devices one or more client applications and to cause the one or more portable devices to install the one or more client applications [see Lundblade, section 0043]; the one or more client applications being configured to communicate with the remote wireless application server computer over a wireless network [see Lundblade, Figures 2-4, section 0043, 0055]. By this rationale independent claims 1, 8 and 9 are rejected.

7. Regarding dependent claims 2-7, the limitations of these claims are taught within the figures and disclosure of Lundblade. Furthermore with regards to the limitation wherein the application server program is further configured to download and to install a different set of wireless application server components on different remote wireless application server computers [see Lundblade, section 0003] and wherein the application data is processed and filtered by the one or more local application server computers to update one or more wireless application software programs on the one or more remote wireless application server computers [see Lundblade, section 0062]. By this rationale dependent claims 2-7 are rejected.

8. Regarding claims 10-16, the limitations of these claims are taught within the disclosure as well as figures of Lundblade. Furthermore with regards to the limitation of wherein the central application server program has a component that provides at least one member of the group consisting of seamless roaming across network subnets, session persistence through out of range conditions, session persistent through suspend/resume, compression for low bandwidth conditions, encryption capability, user authentication, and roamable virtual private network [see Lundblade, sections 0062-0067]. By this rationale dependent claims 10-16 are rejected.
